

1ST ACES HIGH FACEBOOK CONTEST

Aces High magazine and AK-Interactive would like to invite all modellers to take part in our first aircraft modelling contest on Facebook. Our goal is to recognize and award new talents in aircraft modelling, and to promote the use of weathering techniques for finishing your aircraft models. Five attractive prizes will be given to the builders of the best models submitted to the competition; three of them will be awarded by the editorial staff of Aces High, whilst another two prizes will go to the builders of the models who receive the highest number of "Likes" on our Facebook page. The main theme of this and all future contests will be related to the theme of current Aces High magazine issue.

RULES OF THE COMPETITION

1. Any modeller, who is a fan of Aces High page on Facebook (www.facebook.com/AcesHighMagazineOfficial), can participate in the contest, regardless of age and country of origin.
2. The main theme of our first contest is "Luftwaffe fighters". All submitted models have to depict aircraft used in combat by the fighter units of the German air force during World War Two. These include models of both day and night fighters.

5. Aces High editorial staff will then select one photo of each model you submit, which will be entered into the contest gallery on Aces High Facebook page. We strongly advise you to send clear, high resolution photos taken on a neutral background, in order to allow both us and the visitors to the contest gallery, to see your model in its full glory!
6. Each photo in the contest gallery will be tagged with the name of the modeller, the type of aircraft and kit's scale. Therefore, the visitors of our gallery will be able to learn more about the builder of each model.
